

Calling My Spirit To Attention

I speak to my spirit, “Come forth and rule over my soul and my body.”

I speak to my spirit, “I command you to come into alignment with Father God’s purpose for my life.”

I command my soul and body, “Be at peace and submit to what the Spirit of God wants to do in me.”

I speak to my slumbering spirit, “WAKE UP! It is safe. It’s time to step into what God has designed for you.”

I bless you, my spirit, with the potential to fulfill all that God has purposed for you.

My spirit, your Heavenly Father has made you very special— you are no accident. God has invested much in creating you to be a unique vessel for His glory.

My spirit, you are accepted, affirmed, capable and beloved in Father God’s eyes.

He likes the way He made you.

He is not intimidated by any areas of lack in you.

My spirit, I bless you with God’s favor.

I bless you with freedom from fear of what others think about you.

I bless you with peace.

I bless you with everything you need this day to “be all you can be.”

Jesus is smiling over you with great pleasure.

RISE UP, my spirit, and RULE!
